

AFJN announces its first annual Fr. Bill Dyer Lecture:

JUSTICE, RECONCILIATION^{AND} PEACEBUILDING:

SEEN THROUGH AFRICAN EYES

Do African Traditional Justice processes have anything to offer peace-building challenges in current post-conflict African countries? How do justice and reconciliation happen in the mix of cultures, characters and expectations in present-day conflicts in Africa? Are we willing to invest money and thought into researching the possibilities of understanding these African realities better?

Come and listen to Clement Aapengnuo from Northern Ghana, founder of the Damongo Peace Center and currently at George Mason University, as he discusses the reality of Justice, Reconciliation and Peacebuilding seen through African eyes. Discussion and reception to follow.

The event is free but space is limited. Please RSVP by calling 202-884-9780 or events@afjn.org. (Free will offerings accepted).

The Dyer Lecture series is a new initiative of the Africa Faith and Justice Network. Fr. Bill Dyer, a member of the Missionaries of Africa, was a champion for African peoples having served in five African countries over many years. He was a board member and later director of the Africa Faith and Justice Network while stationed in Washington. He spoke truth to power, no matter who, no matter where. Bill died in August 2008 here in Washington. This lecture series attempts to continue Bill's prophetic witness.
